

presents

Alexei Grynyuk - Piano

Wednesday, December 14, 2016
Experimental Theatre, NCPA at 7 pm

Enjoying world-wide critical acclaim Alexei Grynyuk was described by 'Le Figaro' as a "...master of transparent and sovereign touch...astonishing personality and absolutely transcendental virtuosity".

Kiev-born pianist Alexei Grynyuk displayed tremendous interest in music from his early childhood and at the age of six had already started giving his first concerts. He attracted wide attention at the age of thirteen when he won the first prize at the Sergei Diaghilev All-Soviet-Union piano competition in Moscow. He won First Prize at the Vladimir Horowitz International piano competition in Kiev and the Shanghai International piano competition in China. He is equally at home in the classical, romantic and twentieth-century repertoire of piano music. In recent years the music of Franz Liszt has been an important part of Alexei's repertoire and he has been acclaimed for his "breathtaking musical accomplishment with musicianship of the highest order". The programme will include works by Chopin, Rachmaninoff, Stravinsky and Liszt.

Ticket Rates: Rs. 800/- and Rs. 500/-

Box Office at NCPA :

November 26 - MMMF Patron members and NCPA members

November 29 - Public